Experience

With more than thirty years of corporate and real estate legal practice, Robert E. Tritt brings a broad spectrum of experience to public-private partnerships. He is Co-Chair of the Military Base and Communities Practice of McKenna Long and Aldridge. He is actively engaged in the representation of the private sector and local redevelopment authorities in the redevelopment of closed and realigned military bases. He has skill in assisting the private sector in investments in and around expanding military bases, including through enhanced use leasing authority available to the Department of Defense, Department of Energy, Veteran's Administration and other Federal departments. He also represents governmental entities and the private sector in other forms of public-private partnerships, including privatization of educational facilities for K-12 schools and higher educational purposes.

Mr. Tritt is experienced in complex real estate development and redevelopment and the financing of those efforts through private and public finance and through tax incentives.

Mr. Tritt has further extensive experience in project development in the energy field and has represented independent power producers in the development and financing of gas and oil fired merchant power plants and cogeneration facilities and is now engaged in alternative energy projects.
